Domestic Violence hurts the whole family

The document discusses the impacts of domestic violence on families and highlights the need for support and resources to help victims. It mentions the Domestic Violence Hotline number and provides information on how to access assistance. The text emphasizes the importance of understanding the cycle of violence and seeking help from organizations that specialize in domestic abuse support.

Key points:
- Domestic violence affects the family as a whole.
- Support and resources are crucial for victims.
- The Domestic Violence Hotline number is provided for assistance.
- Understanding the cycle of violence is important.
- Seeking help from specialized organizations is recommended.

The text concludes with a call to action, encouraging people to support victims of domestic violence and seek help when needed.